What's going on this week?

A study sponsored by Sainsbury's and Oxfam has calculated that more than 235 million articles of clothing were sent to landfill annually. Discarded clothing has been one of the fastest-growing sources of British waste over the past decade. The UK has had to more than double its domestic waste capacity since 2010 from 6.3 million tonnes to 13.5 million tonnes. In London, a series of "repair cafes" have been set up to encourage people to think before they throw.

Things to talk about at home...

- Make a list of everything you throw out in one day. Is it more than you thought?
- Do you think we should cut back on packaging, do all toys need to be in boxes?
- When a toy or something in your house breaks, what happens to it?
